

How tall can you build your tower, with index cards or playing cards

CREATIVITY - Kids will try so many ways to build this tower of cards. They will fold the cards, make zig-zags, try boxes, and a lot of the cards will be rolled.

TIP: Any size index card will work fine and I don't count the cards. I take a new stack and give each group about the same amount. It's always too many! The towers will reach a height that can't be improved on because they collapse so easily.

You can use 2-3' of masking tape but this has it's complications as well.
